DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure does not commence on a separate sheet in accordance with 37 CFR 1.52(b)(4). A new abstract of the disclosure is required and must be presented on a separate sheet, apart from any other text.

Content of Specification

- (a) Title of the Invention: See 37 CFR 1.72(a) and MPEP § 606. The title of the invention should be placed at the top of the first page of the specification unless the title is provided in an application data sheet. The title of the invention should be brief but technically accurate and descriptive, preferably from two to seven words may not contain more than 500 characters.
- (b) Cross-References to Related Applications: See 37 CFR 1.78 and MPEP § 201.11.
- (c) Statement Regarding Federally Sponsored Research and Development: See MPEP § 310.
- (d) Incorporation-By-Reference Of Material Submitted On a Compact Disc: The specification is required to include an incorporation-by-reference of electronic documents that are to become part of the permanent United States Patent and Trademark Office records in the file of a patent application. See 37 CFR 1.52(e) and MPEP § 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text were permitted as electronic documents on compact discs beginning on September 8, 2000.

Or alternatively, Reference to a "Microfiche Appendix": See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche

Art Unit: 2683

Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.

- (e) Background of the Invention: See MPEP § 608.01(c). The specification should set forth the Background of the Invention in two parts:
 - (1) Field of the Invention: A statement of the field of art to which the invention pertains. This statement may include a paraphrasing of the applicable U.S. patent classification definitions of the subject matter of the claimed invention. This item may also be titled "Technical Field."
 - (2) Description of the Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 37 CFR 1.98: A description of the related art known to the applicant and including, if applicable, references to specific related art and problems involved in the prior art which are solved by the applicant's invention. This item may also be titled "Background Art."
- (f) Brief Summary of the Invention: See MPEP § 608.01(d). A brief summary or general statement of the invention as set forth in 37 CFR 1.73. The summary is separate and distinct from the abstract and is directed toward the invention rather than the disclosure as a whole. The summary may point out the advantages of the invention or how it solves problems previously existent in the prior art (and preferably indicated in the Background of the Invention). In chemical cases it should point out in general terms the utility of the invention. If possible, the nature and gist of the invention or the inventive concept should be set forth. Objects of the invention should be treated briefly and only to the extent that they contribute to an understanding of the invention.
- (g) Brief Description of the Several Views of the Drawing(s): See MPEP § 608.01(f). A reference to and brief description of the drawing(s) as set forth in 37 CFR 1.74.
- (h) Detailed Description of the Invention: See MPEP § 608.01(g). A description of the preferred embodiment(s) of the invention as required in 37 CFR 1.71. The description should be as short and specific as is necessary to describe the invention adequately and accurately. Where elements or groups of elements, compounds, and processes, which are conventional and generally widely known in the field of the invention described and their exact nature or type is not necessary for an understanding and use of the invention by a person skilled in the art, they should not be described in detail. However, where particularly complicated subject matter is involved or where the elements, compounds, or processes may not be commonly or widely known in the field, the specification should refer to another patent or readily available publication which adequately describes the subject matter.

- (i) Claim or Claims: See 37 CFR 1.75 and MPEP § 608.01(m). The claim or claims must commence on separate sheet or electronic page (37 CFR 1.52(b)(3)). Where a claim sets forth a plurality of elements or steps, each element or step of the claim should be separated by a line indentation. There may be plural indentations to further segregate subcombinations or related steps. See 37 CFR 1.75 and MPEP § 608.01(i)-(p).
- (j) Abstract of the Disclosure: See MPEP § 608.01(f). A brief narrative of the disclosure as a whole in a single paragraph of 150 words or less commencing on a separate sheet following the claims. In an international application which has entered the national stage (37 CFR 1.491(b)), the applicant need not submit an abstract commencing on a separate sheet if an abstract was published with the international application under PCT Article 21. The abstract that appears on the cover page of the pamphlet published by the International Bureau (IB) of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) is the abstract that will be used by the USPTO. See MPEP § 1893.03(e).
- (k) Sequence Listing, See 37 CFR 1.821-1.825 and MPEP §§ 2421-2431. The requirement for a sequence listing applies to all sequences disclosed in a given application, whether the sequences are claimed or not.

See MPEP § 2421.02.

Drawings

2. The subject matter of this application admits of illustration by a drawing to facilitate understanding of the invention. Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81. No new matter may be introduced in the required drawing.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 2-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zicker et al..

The claimed invention reads on Zicker et al. as follows:

Regarding claim 7, Zicker et al. discloses a communication network (fig. 1) for the establishment and operation of individual communication connections (col. 6 lines 11-64 and col. 7 lines 29-65) including a network termination circuit (pico station)(fig. 1 number 26) to which each subscriber (fig. 1 number 32a-f and fixed subscriber connected to RJ11)(fig.1) can be connected (fig. 1 and col. 7 lines 29-51), said network termination circuit being provided with a radio (wireless) interface (fig. 1 number 26 and col. 7 lines 45-65) and given a local identity (customer location) (col. 7 lines 30-45 and col. 9 lines 1-3), and being connected by firmly assigned local lines to a central office (PSTN) (fig. 1 number 20 and col. 7 lines 29-65).

Regarding claim 2, Zicker et al. discloses said network termination circuit is assigned to a subscriber-specific terminal for no longer than the duration of an individual communication connection (i.e. cordless connection) (col. 7 lines 54-60).

Regarding claim 3, Zicker et al. discloses the subscriber-specific terminal is provided with a transmitter/receiver which is compatible with a radio interface (col. 7 lines 45-50 and col. 8 lines 40-55).

Regarding claim 4, Zicker et al. discloses the subscriber-specific terminal can be connected to any network termination circuit that happens to be available (inherent, as long as there is a communication channel with the pico station, as taught in col. 7 lines 45-50).

Regarding claim 5, Zicker et al. discloses an individual communication connection a subscriber-specific terminal 9 (fig. 5 number 80) can be switched from one network termination circuit (fig. 5 number 26, 10a and 10b) to another (fig. 5 numbers 26, 10a and 10b and col. 10 lines 24-46).

Regarding claim 6, Zicker et al. discloses suitable changeover devices are provided which allow alternative operation in either the "subscriber-specific" mode (wireless) or in the "only line-specific" mode (cordless) (col. 7 lines 51-65).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Bamburak (U.S. Patent 5,197,092) discloses a location registration system for a personal communicator such as a cellular telephone. Tam (U.S. Patent 5,526,403) discloses a wireline interface for cellular telephone.
